

BUILDING TRUST WITH AMERICA'S ATHLETES

2024 - 2026 Strategic Plan

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Since opening our doors, the U.S. Center for SafeSport (“Center”) has become the nation’s leader in safe sport practices and a model for building safeguarding programs globally.

The Center has successfully developed processes to fairly investigate allegations of abuse and misconduct; listed more than 2,000 individuals on the Centralized Disciplinary Database; established policies to guide interactions with minors participating in sport; released dozens of prevention and education courses, with more than 5MM trainings completed; audited 100% of NGBs (National Governing Body), including the USOPC (U.S. Olympic & Paralympic Committee); and solidified the organization’s infrastructure to meet and manage the long-term needs of the Olympic & Paralympic Movement.

Recognizing that some of those needs have shifted, the Center finds itself at an inflection point.

The U.S. Center for SafeSport’s 2024-26 Strategic Plan is a reflection on the past, an acknowledgement of the need for change and improvement, and an eye towards the future. The Center will bolster our efforts to make athlete well-being the centerpiece of our nation’s sports culture through abuse prevention, education, and accountability while focusing intently on engaging athletes throughout the Olympic & Paralympic Movement, further understanding the needs of the Movement at every level, and leveraging data and learnings to build a more robust prevention education program.

CONCLUSION

Executing this strategy will require the Center to invest in staff and technology solutions; utilize data to launch and evaluate education resources; and increase marketing and communications efforts to increase awareness of the Center and earn greater trust with athletes. As such, a detailed road map, comprehensive goals and benchmarks, and a 3-year financial forecast have been developed in tandem with this plan to ensure the Center can meet these goals and timelines.

Additionally, the Center will continue to refine our processes and learn from our data and those that interact with the organization. While this plan charts our path forward, it is a living document, and as such, is subject to change based on the needs of the Olympic & Paralympic Movement.
